

Positioning for the Future 2012 Leadership Forum

A cost-effective way to develop your high-potential leaders to sustain a healthy, productive and successful operating environment for your company's future

The Program:

LeadAdvantage, Inc., a Charlotte, North Carolina based leadership development firm, is offering a Positioning for the Future - High-Potential Leadership Forum. This curriculum consists of quarterly two or three day sessions focusing on:

- Strengthening leadership behavior
- Navigating successfully through a changing business environment
- Delivering boardroom-level presentations
- Developing leaders to advance business strategies and enhance organizational culture
- Individual coaching between sessions to identify barriers and potential roadblocks to success and building a more effective operating environment

Participants will also benefit from high-profile corporate executives presenting relevant and current industry topics and networking and collaboration with other participating business leaders.

Resulting in:

- Maximizing behaviors that enhance communication & performance
- Minimizing workplace disruption from team conflict and misunderstood objectives
- Develop more creative, innovative solutions to problems
- Create more efficient and effective planning implementation cycles
- Experience a higher percentage of successful plan execution
- Specific action plans (including accountabilities, timelines, and measurement methods) based on individual feedback reports

Who should apply:

- Persons within your organization with potential for long-term leadership responsibilities.
- Individuals currently in, or with a desire for executive leadership positions, a commitment to build stronger teams, and a conviction to take their companies to the next level of excellence.
